OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

RINGING CHURCH bells at 11 a.m. on Independence Day (July 4) to mark the birthday of our country may be fast becoming a tradition in most communities throughout the country.

But Campbell apparently is not yet ready for such a ringing memorial.

At least that's what the Rev. Wayne Myers, of Campbell Congregational Church, discovered on the "Fourth".

For the past three years, the three churches in town that have chimes or bells (Congregational, St. Lucy's and First Methodist) have sounded off around 11 a.m. on "The Fourth".

The Press made a special effort one year to dig up all the bells of Campbell and have a joint ringing.

But the few other bells in town hardly made a tingle...so the job was left to the three churches.

The Congregational Church bell is rung in the old-fashioned way by pulling a rope... And the bell itself was brought from the original church (now the city hall) and is more than 70 years old.

Campbell First Methodist and St. Lucy's chimes are electronically manned.

But it get back to Rev. Myers' experience on the Fourth which proved that this community has excellent police protection, even if it doesn't have many bell-ringers.

WHEN REV. WAYNE and two of his youngsters (Kathy and Peter) had finished their bell-ringing chore on "The Fourth" they were met at the door by one of Campbell's finest complete with walkie-talkie.

And swirling into the driveway at the church were three squad cars plus a cop on a bike.

When Wayne and family started tolling the bell at 11 a.m., apparently some residents in the area thought the sound so strange that they had notified the police that the church was being broken into.

Hence the convergence of the police officers on the church.

Wayne explained the reason of the bell-ringing to the officers. He also showed a clipping from last week's Press that was on the church bulletin board.

The clipping reported that the church bells in town were to ring on "The Fourth" as part of the nationwide gesture.

Incidentally, the bell that was pictured was the bell of the Congregational Church that the Rev. Myers had just finished ringing.

Apparently no calls had been made to the police about the Methodist or Catholic electronic chimes that were ringing at the same time.

But it is just another bit of evidence that illustrates we are now living in an electronic age, as if you didn't know.

Even when it comes to bell-ringing.

COME TO THINK OF IT, another good old American tradition that has been around almost as long as bell-ringing on the Fourth is tax-griping.

Tax-griping is not limited to America. In fact other nationalities have been known to get more excited about than Americans.

Still, taxes had quite a part to play in the Revolution and the founding of this nation.

We were reminded of this recently when we received the expected traditional trickle of articulate moans from hard-pressed taxpayers.

Almost invariably we hear from an "irate taxpayer", shortly after the tax assessment notices (sent out three weeks ago) are received each year.

Of course, we get many more gripes when the actual tax bills are received, but

Campbell girl wins top state post

SAME ALMA MATER--Janie Wong, a Campbell High senior, who served as governor of the recent Girls State which was held on the University of California, Davis campus, reminisced with Chancellor Emil M. Mrak (above).

Chancellor Mrak, a graduate of Campbell High, was a student here in the 1920's.

Miss Janie Wong, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wong, 494 Sunnyoaks Avenue, was elected California Girls State Governor at the 25th annual Girls State session held at the University of California, Davis, last week. This is the first time that a Campbell girl has been elected to this high office.

Following Miss Wong's election her mother and Robert Culp, Campbell High School principal, were notified and were among those present when Miss Wong was sworn into office by Assemblywoman March Fong of Oakland.

Following the inaugural ceremonies Janie had the pleasure of meeting with Chancellor Emil Mrak of the University of California at Davis, who was graduated from Campbell High in the 1920's.

Janie, who will be a senior next year at Campbell High, is a member of the honor society, active on the student council, secretary to California Scholarship Federation and also holds records in district league track. She plans to attend college and until Girls State, had planned a liberal arts course, but now

Senior citizen center here gets $28,668 federal grant

An organizational meeting will be held this Sunday, from 2 to 5 p.m. at St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 65 W. Rincon, Campbell, to form the West Valley Senior Activity Center which will be run by the elderly themselves.

The project will be made possible through a federal subsidy.

United Progreso Arriba was notified this week that a federal grant from the Economic Opportunity Commission of $28,668 had been approved for the operation of the center.

According to Steve Biggs, of the EOC staff, which guides United Progreso Arriba, the proposal is to provide a "home away from home" for senior citizens in a friendly and relaxed atmosphere with a variety of activities to suit everyone.

Dancing, arts and crafts, carpentry, exercise groups, health and nutrition, group therapy, community activities are some of the activities planned plus others that the elderly may request.

The unique aspect of the center, according to Biggs, is that it will be staffed and run by the elderly themselves. He said that approximately 20 jobs will be available for senior citizens, including a director, senior counselor, handyman, janitor and senior aides.

A steering committee has been established to get the project moving and the organizational meeting this Sunday, July 14, will include a short business meeting followed by a social hour.

Those interested in attending the meeting may contact Frances Kersh (379-6196) or Kathy Clark (379-4772) for more information or for transportation to the affair.

Biggs explains that United Progreso Arriba is an organization of low-income people in the area who are concerned about making their community better for everyone.

Board sets college administrators salaries

Dr. Wallace Hall, president of West Valley College, will receive $30,243 next year and four assistant superintendents will be paid $23,127 each as a result of the college trustee action last week.

In addition, two assistant deans, Arnold J. Edman, counseling services and Donald Ziegler, admission records, will receive $20,014; Nero Pruitt, extended day and summer sessions, $19,866 and Robert J. Smith, student activities, $19,421. A five-step range was established for the assistant deans.

Assistant superintendents receiving the $23,127 stipend include, R. E. Arnold, dean of campus facilities; Gordon D. Aumack, dean of instruction; Jerry H. Girdner, dean of student personnel services and James P. Hardy, dean of business services.

A five-step program also put Hugh Hall, librarian at $18,235, and William H. Deal, coordinator of community services, at $17,938 in the third step.

SPIRIT OF '76--Top prize for the most patriotic entry in the annual Fourth of July block party held by West Rincon Homeowners Association went to the above trio, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hayes, 2293 Middletown Drive. Left to right, Gordy,3; Duane,4; and Ken, 5.

Troop leader prizes were won by Linda Collins (left in the back) and Mark Chavoya.

Burning issue

Backyard incinerators are not through yet in Campbell, if the attitude of the city councilmen Monday night is any criteria of the situation.

The City Council officially went on record in favor of backyard burning, at least until it can be shown just what effect such burning has on the smog situation.

The action came in answer to a request for the councilmen to attend a public meeting on July 11 called by the Air Pollution Control District to discuss the problem of backyard burning of rubbish now allowed in the Bay Area on the premises of one and two-family dwellings.

Council starts plan hearings on July 29

Campbell's City Council will embark on the long drawn-out public hearing schedule for the '701' advanced planning program on Monday, July 29.

The Council on Monday night decided to consider the specific plan of the San Tomas Expressway Area (Area I) that night.

If the Council uses the same format the Planning Commission used, six hearings will be necessary before final approval is given to the amendments to this city's master plan.

The Council decided to defer the hearing on the downtown area (Specific Area II) hoping that the confusion over the coop system and the civic center will be somewhat more settled before the hearing on that phase is held.

In other action, Monday night, the Council was informed that the terms of Planning Commissioners Frank Klein and Jack Healey were expiring.

In accordance with Council policy, Klein had submitted a letter seeking reappointment and it was understood that such a letter would be received from Healey also before the next meeting when the appointments will be made.

The Council on Monday night also directed City Attorney Joe Bonacina to pro-

City, developer to talk "tower"

Some of the confusion that has surrounded and somewhat clouded the dramatic civic center tower concept which has been proposed for Campbell hopefully should be eliminated as a result of a scheduled confrontation between the developer and city officials.

Campbell's city manager, mayor and city attorney should learn next Monday, July 15, whether the proposal for a 17-story civic center tower at Bascom and Campbell avenues made by Fred Sahadi will be hampered to any extent by a lengthy delay caused by checking out the legal problems involved.

The three Campbell officials, City Attorney Joe Bonacina, Mayor Bill Smeed and City Manager Bob Stephens, are to meet with Sahadi and his attorney Monday afternoon to discuss basically the time problem and also other "pertinent points" involved in the proposal which could include legal fees, etc.

At the June 24 meeting, by a divided 3-2 vote, the conference with Sahadi was approved for the purpose of discovering how much the developer would be affected by the delay caused by the legal maneuvers.

That was the recommended action in a lengthy letter from Nathan D. Rowley, of the law firm of Orrick, Herrington, Rowley & Sutcliffe of San Francisco, this city's bond counsel.

A delay ensued in setting up the conference through a misunderstanding of the City Council motion.

However, the matter was clarified last Monday night, after a long-drawn out discussion over what the city officials should discuss at the conference.

It re-emphasized at the City Council meeting that the conference was to settle the time element.

In addition, by a unanimous vote, the council approved the motion of Councilman Homer Hyde directing the "committee" to explore other pertinent points involved in the proposal.

NEW DIRECTOR--Dick Hardy, of the Ainsley Corporation, who served as president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce in 1965-66, and long active in civic affairs, has been appointed to the CofC board of directors.

Two directors, Lee Sicard, of Pacific Telephone, and Bill Brown, of Campbell Office Machines, recently resigned from the board. Miles Tully, of Campbell Office Machines, was appointed to the other board spot.

John Merriell heads Campbell school board

John Merriell, of 855 Robin Lane, Campbell, has been elected president of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District board of trustees. He succeeds Vernon I. "Bud" Armstrong.

Merriell, an engineer at Lockheed Missiles and Space Company in Sunnyvale, formerly served as president of the board during the 1963-1964 school year.

Also elected were Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong as clerk of the board and Vernon I. "Bud" Armstrong was selected as vice-president.

Armstrong was named as board representative to the County Committee on School District Organization, and William Parton was selected as representative for the district on the Santa Clara County School Board Coordinating Council.

All terms of office are for one year.

Planners suggest new park bond vote

Planning Commission members last week indicated that they favored a city bond issue as soon as possible for the acquisition of land for a central park.

The suggestion was made at the continued public hearing on the various phases of the '701' advanced planning program that had been presented during the last month.

The Commission ended the first chapter in federally-subsidized advanced planning project (701) by adopting the land use recommendation for Specific Areas I (San Tomas Expressway area) and Specific Area II (San Tomas Area).

Approved also at the same meeting was the "701" recommendation for the recreational element.

Previously approved by the Commission was the land use plan for Specific Area II (downtown core).

The action by the Commission came after public hearings had been held on the plans for all three areas. The recommendations will be submitted to the City Council for approval. Public hearings will be held on each phase before the Council takes final action.

Before the Planning Commission adopted the plan for Specific Area I a number of modifications were made to the original recommendation.

The land use plan for Specific Area I, recommended by the Commission, specifies high density residential to commercial use for lands at Hamilton Ave. and Marathon Drive and at the southwest corner of Hamilton and Llewellyn.

Land would be zoned from high to low-medium density to low-density residential use at the east end of Hedegard between Latimer and Campbell avenues.

Land on the south side of Latimer and at the north end of Llewellyn would be medium to low-density with commercial to professional office use on the south side of Campbell Ave. between Winchester and Milton.

Park land to high density residential use would be on land on the east side of San Tomas Expressway and north of Budd Ave.

That area on the west side of Winchester Blvd. and south of the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center would be medium density to commercial.

Area III (San Tomas neighborhood) was also adopted at the continued hearing last week but the '701' land use plan for the area did not create the interest that developed in Area II.

Three changes were approved in the original recommendation. These included (1) low-medium density to low-density residential use on land located at the southeast corner of Sunnyoaks and Virginia avenues; (2) low-medium to medium density residential use on land on the north side of Hacienda between Capri and Walnut and (3) low-density to low-medium density residential on land located on the south side of Hacienda between Capri Drive and Winchester Blvd.

The Commission last week also approved the '701' recommendation for the recreational element for the city which suggested that elementary school playfields be used as neighborhood recreational areas; the City should cooperate with the county in the developing of Los Gatos Creek using federal open space grants and land should be acquired for a central city park with its development being scheduled over a five to 10-year period.

Members of the audience at the meeting also urged the city to move immediately toward the development of a central park, emphasizing that land for such a project was becoming increasingly scarce as well as high-priced.

Before adopting the '701' recommendation, the Commission strongly urged a bond issue for acquisition of a central park be initiated as soon as possible.

Prior to the approval of the '701' land use plans, the Commission approved a use permit and plans for Campbell's new fire station that will be located at 485 Sunnyoaks Ave.

Approval was also given the prezoning of parcels being annexed to the City of Campbell classified as Sunnyoaks 1968-2. Properties at 494-497-500-510-556- and 570 Sunnyoaks were recommended to be zoned R-2-S and 481 and 581 Hacienda would be R-3-S. The water district property in the same general area would be R-1-S.

the tax assessment notices always stir up a few.

One of our recent callers emphasized the point that we also have made year after year...Assessed valuations had a direct bearing on one's tax bill.

It is sort of six of one and half a dozen of another...

If the assessment jumps, the tax bill will increase, just the same as if the tax rate was raised.

Our caller claimed it was unfair for government officials to "point with pride" that they had held the line in the tax rate when the assessment had jumped like crazy.

Our friend's point is well taken.

It's what one pays that counts, not how the figure was obtained.

There have been definite improvements made in the tax assessment laws in recent years. The notice that is sent to a property owner is an example.

One can now review the the assessment valuation of his property and roughly figure if it is in line with its market price by multiplying by four.

If it is out-of-line, the taxpayer should blow up a storm.

We have yet to hear, however, of an owner of an undervalued piece of property blowing up that said storm.

THIS HAS NOTHING TO do with much of anything in particular but in recent weeks our office has been receiving scads of material from the "National Shooting Sports Foundation, Inc.", located in Riverside, Conn.

Admittedly our scope (pun intended) in this field (firearms) in limited.

But we had not heard of such an organization until the current furore over the need for tighter gun controls.

FOR THE PAST FIVE years or so Mrs. Shirley Hess has been circulation manager of The Press.

Circulation manager is a "man-sized job", so to speak, but it has been efficiently handled by Shirley.

Keeping 44 young and exuberant boys in line is quite a chore at any time. But Shirley has been able to cope with the situation over her years and still keep her equilibrium which, in our book, says a good deal for Shirley and also for the high quality of boys who are carriers for this paper.

One of Shirley's toughest assignments is coping with the turnover and then finding the right boys for the right routes.

That is almost a never-ending chore, as you can well imagine.

Anyway when Shirley came to work for The Press, she and her husband, Dick, had two daughters only.

Since that time the Hess family has had two additions, the latest one arriving just a few weeks ago.

Both additions have been boys, naturally.

Could this be classified as a "do-it-yourself" program?

ON NUMEROUS OCCASIONS we receive unusually-addressed letters.

Added to our list recently was one addressed directed to the "Campbell Pattern Works" with our P.O. box number and street address.

Another envelope was addressed to The Press, "attention systems manager".

Shucks, there is no pattern for this operation.

Or, for that matter, no system either.

SOME WIT (TO USE THE term loosely), suggested recently that because of all the fuss that has been generated over the "tower issue" that people who used to be called "pillars of their community" maybe should now be called "towers" instead.

No comment.

Trustee selection

Trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) District have instituted a new policy in the filling of vacancies on the board.

The board has accepted applications from interested citizens. After interviewing the "candidates", the intention of the board is to make the appointment from the list of applicants.

The vacancy exists on the present board because of the resignation of Ted Sedgwick who has moved out of the district.

Although not required by statute to do so, the trustees hope to fill the vacancy by a citizen from the same general area that was "represented" by Sedgwick, i.e., the northern part of the district near Monroe School.

According to the "ground rules" set up by the board, applications were to be received until 5 p.m. this evening (July 10). The interviews would be scheduled for a special meeting on July 18 and the selection could be made on August 6.

We commend the trustees of the elementary school district for establishing this policy for the choosing of trustees to fill vacancies on the board.

We concede that this policy does not have to be binding on subsequent boards or, for that matter, it actually does not have to be followed this time, if the "candidates" are not qualified.

However, we feel certain that enough interested citizens will "apply" so that the board will have a wide choice in picking the successor to Sedgwick.

By asking for applications from interested citizens, the board has eliminated the allegation that so often has been made in the past that the school board was a "closed corporation".

Some years ago the City Council established the policy of having interested citizens apply for vacancies that exist on civic bodies and it has worked out exceedingly well.

Such a policy not only is visible evidence that everything is open and above board but it also explodes that old saw of "It is who you know not what you know that counts".

In the city administration this policy has made it possible for many interested citizens to become involved in civic affairs who otherwise would have let the other guy do it.

Without such a policy there was a tendency to appoint some person who was known and often times this meant the "old guard" sort of perpetuating itself.

There is nothing wrong, in our opinion, in having experienced civic workers continue with their interest in civic affairs.

In fact it is a necessity to provide continuity.

What we are saying, however, that a balance is needed and there is a constant need to interest "new" people in their local governmental activities.

We are pleased that the school board has established such a policy.

A forward step

Approval has been given the Campbell-Moreland Pony League to improve and use a ball field on the city-owned Rincon Ave. park site.

We are heartily in accord with this action of the City Council.

The action of City Council was based on the recommendation made by the Parks and Recreation Commission and was an outstanding example of a coordinated civic effort that we feel will be beneficial to the entire community.

The Pony League people made their pitch to the Parks and Recreation Commission and Henry Cary, parks subcommittee chairman on the commission in turn, presented the case to the City Council.

True the approval of a ball field in the undeveloped Rincon Park may not be considered a major undertaking in some circles. However, the point we make is that it is a step in the right direction and it was presented properly...through channels, if you will.

In the presentation to the City Council, Cary explained that in no manner would the ball field interfere with any "master plan" for the park that has been discussed.

In fact Cary emphasized that the ball field would complement other facilities that may develop at the park.

He added also that the league planned to make the ball field at the park an outstanding one and which possibly could be used for world series play.

Most of the improvements would be made by the league through material and labor donations, etc., he said, resulting in a sizeable investment.

We commend both the city and Pony League officials for cooperating in this excellent civic project.

We sincerely hope that the ball field at Rincon Park is just the first in a series of improvements that will lead to the practical use by many citizens of the long-unused city weed-patch.

It truly is a forward step.

Rodney Alan Smith claims Nancy Alexander as bride

Miss Nancy Alexander made a lovely picture in her white poie de soie gown with lace appliques as she walked down the aisle of St. Marks Episcopal Church of Santa Clara to meet her bridegroom, Rodney Alan Smith. An organza train with a poie de soie ribbon border and a shoulder length veil completed her ensemble and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and white orchids. The June 22 ceremony was said by the Rev. Ward McCabe.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron E. Alexander, of Los Gatos, the bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Alexander chose a lime green crepe chiffon styled with a softly draped panel in back and soft front folds beneath a high cowl collar. Accenting her costume was a bouquet of yellow daisies.

Two sisters of the bride, Miss Jeanette Alexander and Mrs. Richard R. Smith served as maid of honor and matron of honor and were gowned alike in yellow A-line gowns with cap sleeves and carried yellow daisies. Identical gowns were worn by the three bridesmaids, Gail Cook, Marla Bringhurst and Carolyn Peters.

Flower Girl Megan Smith, a sister of the bridegroom was also clad in yellow with white lace accents and carried a white lace basket with yellow and apricot baby roses.

The new Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Los Gatos High school and is now attending the University of California, Berkeley.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Smith and was a member of the June graduating class at U. C. Serving as best man was William D. Wilson with brothers Donald and Robert Smith ushering with Jay Paxton and Richard R. Smith.

Following the wedding a reception was held at Villa Montalvo after which the newly-weds left for a honeymoon trip to Hawaii.

A special guest for the occasion was Mrs. A. Dittmann, great aunt of the bride, who shared her birthday date with the young couple as their wedding date.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kwasigoch, 190 N. Carlyn Avenue, were among those present when their son, Lt. Col. John F. Kwasigoch was presented with the Legion of Merit award during ceremonies held at Ft. MacArthur on June 6. The award was made for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services as Air and Ballistic Missile Defense Plans Officer from August 1965 to May 1968.

According to the award, the U.S. Army Colonel's devotion to duty was the "instrumental factor in the resolution of many complex aerospace defense problems of major importance to the United States and Canada. Drug stores lose money to robbers

Two drug stores were robbed during the early evening hours on Friday, July 5, but in both cases the victimes were not quite sure when or who was to blame. Both The Campbell Plaza Drugs, 2349 Winchester Blvd. and the Campbell Drug and Pharmacy, 1739 Winchester Blvd. report that money is missing from places of concealment. Campbell Plaza lost $830, removed from a storage drawer and Campbell Drugs had $103 taken from the safe.

In both instances the victims report that two or more men entered the store and one apparently kept the clerk occupied while the other, apparently familiar with the stores and the procedures, lifted the money. A description of the suspects tallies in both cases and an Ident-I-Kit system picture is being made up by the police working on the case.

Other police action during the last week included a report from the Nelson Bros Trucking Co., 535 Rodeck Ave. who reported almost nightly burglarizing of their establishment with batteries and other equipment being removed from the trucks. Heavier patrols in the area are being established.

Reception plans to honor three local students

Members of the Campbell High school faculty and students are planning a gala reception on Sunday, July 14 at the high school cafetorium for Tim Sapp (Dixon), John Brydon and Janie Wong.

The afternoon affair, which will be held from 2 to 4, will honor the three students who have recently brought considerable fame to the Campbell High school and themselves by achieving national and state recognition.

Tim and John recently placed third in the National Speech and Debate Tournament held in Minnesota while Janie has just been elected to the position of governor of California Girls State and will leave July 28 for Washington, D.C. as one of 100 state delegates to the national Girls State Convention.

Friends and relatives of the three students are all invited to attend according to Robert Culp, principal.

Public meeting to spotlight backyard fires

A public meeting on the subject of backyard burning will be held on Thursday, July 11 at the Santa Clara County Supervisors Chambers in San Jose commencing at 10 a.m.

The meeting has been called by the directors of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District to discuss the extent of the contribution of backyard burning to the overall problem of air pollution in the Bay Area.

Supervisor Sam Della Maggiore, Santa Clara County's representative on the district's board of directors, underscored the fact that no action will be taken at the meeting.

"We think it is important that public officials and the public be advised concerning the nature of the problem of backyard burning and that we be advised of the thinking of interested citizens concerning methods of solving the problem," Della Maggiore said.

Victor Calvo, Santa Clara County Cities representative indicated that similar meetings have been held in San Mateo and Marin Counties, and that the Directors planned to hold at least three more meetings - in Alameda, Contra Costa and San Francisco - before deciding any action.

MORE ABOUT

Girls State

is seriously considering changing her major to political science.

Janie, who was sponsored by the West Valley American Legion Auxiliary 158, was one of 559 girls chosen from California high schools by teachers and principals on the basis of outstanding leadership, scholastic achievement and interest in government as well as high moral character.

California Girls State is part of a national youth-in government program sponsored annually by the American Legion Auxiliary. The entire complex is based on the state government and is designed to give the girls a working knowledge of the various phases of government.

Campaigns and elections are held from the city to state level and each girl is assigned to a political party and to a city and county.

Miss Wong, a member of the Whig party, campaigned on a platform urging more participation of students in city elections; an accelerated high school system; urging the membership of a qualified economist on the Board of Education to enable better appropriation of board funds; a rigid conservation program; drug instruction in the fifth and sixth grade levels; better racial understanding and stricter supervision of welfare organizations.

On July 28, Janie and Libby Kristal, from Hayward, who was chosen as the "Outstanding Citizen" will leave for Washington, D.C. where Janie will represent California Girls State at Girls Nation.

JUST THE BEGINNING--Janie Wong, recently elected Governor of Girls State, studGovernor of Girls State, knows that more book work will be needed when she goes on to Girls Nation.

Letters to the Editor

CAMPBELL "STARS"

Dear George,

Once in a while I come upon an assignment that has a little special meaning. So it was with this photo assignment with Miss Wong and Chancellor Emil M. Mrak. Since Miss Wong has grown up not more than a stone's throw from where I was reared and where my parents continue to reside, it was a particular thrill to meet her and add my small effort to publicize her stay at Davis.

Since I have fond memories from my association as Campus Echo editor (1953) with the Campbell Press and with you, personally, for some occupational counseling during my collegiate journalism days at SJS, I want to close by offering whatever assistance my role on the cmapus can provide in offering you and the Press readers information about the campus, the chancellor, faculty, students, etc.

Sincerely.

Bob Pentzer

P.S. As you may know, the chancellor and I have no monopoly on holding local ties with Campbell. During the past year, footballer Craig Morton has made his offseason home in Davis.

CRITICIZES POLICY

Dear Sir:

The West Valley College Symphony Orchestra, directed by Cesare Claudio, has been cancelled by the Governing Board for the summer and, unless the policies of the Board are reversed, will be either destroyed or severely curtailed in the future.

Maestro Claudio has worked and studied with the greats of the music world–Monteux, Stravinsky, Bloch, Milhaud, etc. The caliber of his musicianship has drawn professional musicians from as far as La Honda, Santa Cruz, and Menlo Park to the college's community-and-student orchestra; these professionals and many talented amateurs have augmented the group and increased its musical scope; they have worked with students in the group (during class time and even outside of school hours) to help them gain more from the course; they have freely given the community the benefit of their talents at public concerts.

Because of a new regulation insisted on by the administration, musicians living outside the district will no longer be permitted to be a part of West Valley College Symphony Orchestra. Although these musicians have made it possible to fill the instrumentation required by most symphonic scores, although they have made the orchestra more rewarding for all the players and more enjoyable for those attending its free concerts, their contributions of the past years are to be brushed aside and their very presence in the future forbidden.

Their absence will leave gaps in the instrumentation that will not be readily filled under the new policies, which also deny attendance to many teenagers who have enjoyed this opportunity to play great music in a large orchestra.

Because of petty jealousies within the department, vindictiveness, and shortsighted inflexibility on the part of the administration and the Board, students of the West Valley College District will be cheated of an opportunity to enhance their musical education; taxpayers of the District will be cheated of the full potential of the teacher their taxes have been spent to hire; and the community will be cheated most of all, by stifling the great contribution to its cultural life Maestro Claudio could make.

Yours very truly,

(Mrs. Harker Dale)

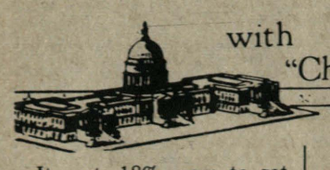
ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



It costs 18% more to get your pants pressed now than in 1960 and the cost of having a baby is up 84.5%. The price of pork chops has been a bit more stable, with a mere 20% increase, while bacon has gone up 23.7%.

There are many reasons for inflation and I for one will not commit the mistake of pointing the finger of blame at only one cause. But there is no question that government regulation and spending –that is, too much of it–is a major contributing factor.

The Food and Drug Administration is a good example of an agency which is constantly reaching for new things to regulate with fancily worded requirements. Recently it took on the monumental task of defining cherry pie and writing regulations regarding it. Said the FDA:

"Cherry pie is the food prepared by incorporating in a filling contained in a pastry shell mature, whole, pitted, stemmed, red, sour (tart) cherries (fresh, frozen or canned)....The top of the pie may be open or it may be wholly or partly covered with pastry or other suitable topping....The name of the food for which a definition and standard of identity is established by this section is cherry pie, except that if the maximum diameter of the food (measured across opposite outside edges of the pastry shell) is not more than 4 inches the food alternatively may be designated by the name cherry tart".

And the FDA also produced a "standard of quality" for cherry pies which should contain "not less than 2.7 cherries per ounce of net weight of the pie when examined in accordance with criteria which provided for spraying the filling with a 'gentle water spray over a U.S. No. 8 sieve (0.094 openings) stacked in a U.S. No. 20 sieve on a 15 to 30 degree slope.'"

So now the taxpaying public can enjoy an 8-inch, one-pound cherry pie with full confidence that it is not a tart and contains a minimum of 43.2 cherries!

Frankly, any member of a generation which lived before the advent of precooked, frozen and packaged pies and who spent any time at all in his mother's kitchen should know the difference between a cherry pie and a tart. He also knows that the above-mentioned verbiage is a needless waste of time and taxpayers' money. And though the cause and effect relationship may be a bit far-fetched, such useless expenditure is one reason it costs 18% more to get your pants pressed today than in 1960.

Panda prize goes on trip to South America

Melba Maria Mantano, an 8-year old Columbia, South America, girl doesn't know it yet, but she and her brothers and sisters will have a new playmate soon - a lifelike panda which, until recently, had made its home at the new Sherwin-Williams Paint Store on Bascom Ave., near Hamilton in Campbell.

The young cub was a featured door prize awarded by the paint store following its grand opening this past week. Winner of the prize was Melba's foster-mother, Mrs. Ruth Cronick, wife of Clare Cronick of the Campbell Press staff.

The Cronick's will soon be getting off a Christmas package to the Foster Parents Plan, Inc., at 352 Park Ave South in New York City. The package will then be routed by F-P Plan via slow ocean freighter to its destination in Columbia, the ocean trip alone consuming several months time.

MELBA MANTANO

But when it does arrive at the Montano home, just prior to Christmas, the package will contain among other things, the young Panda cub toy who has been named Wilsher--derivative of the store's name.
